Baltinglass Grangecon Stratford & Bigstone Newsletter

17th Sunday in Ordinary Time

25th July 2010.

Most people belong to some sort of an organisation or group that enriches their lives such as the GAA, ICA, Macra na Feirme, Tidy Towns or whatever. Many people may also belong to a religious group also enriching their lives.

Now Jesus came not to start a new religion but to liberate people from any bonds that prevent them from being their true selves. Jesus himself was Jewish and his life's journey led him to realise he was the Son of God. He realised this for all of us. He was like a go between for humanity and the Father. He eventually realised not just that he was the Son of God but that he was God.

So we look to our scriptures for the Spiritual guidance which comes from Jesus life and teachings. Today he teaches us how to pray just as he taught his disciples and so we have the Our Father. Today's Gospel tells us 'ask and it will be given to you' and our Responsorial Psalm says 'On the day I called you answered me O Lord'. Many people I know talk to God as they go about their daily lives and isn't it wonderful. Yes we are all invited to do this, to realise that Jesus is my Light, my Help, my Rock, my Refuge. Call on him often.

Lead me, guide me in your way Lord, no matter where I am,
be it in the GAA or ICA...Pray without ceasing.
