The Body and Blood of Christ.

'Though there are many of us we form a single body' St. Paul.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we greeted one another in our native Irish language, using our rich God filled greetings such as Dia dhuit, Dia is muire dhuit, Dia de bheatha sa, Beannacht Dé ort, Bail ó Dhia ar an obair....Every language has its own sound, its own music. Let us be thankful to God for our gift of hearing, something we take for granted.

The Church bell calls people to prayer and truth. As part of the preparation for the International Eucharist Congress, a congress bell will be brought to each parish, in a call for us to prepare for the occasion and why not begin now?

St. Paul tells us today 'Though there are many of us we form a single body'. We gather together to celebrate the Eucharist. In doing so we are invited to offer our lives, our own body and blood along with Jesus to our heavenly Father. Each person lives his/her own unique journey, his/her own unique prayer to God, yet 'though there are many of us we all form a single body'. At each mass after the initial greeting we come before God with a humble heart. Do we realise we are forgiven in thought, word and deed? Eucharist is a gift and we are a Eucharistic people, a community of people coming together to celebrate this gift. May we leave each celebration with the Peace of Christ in our hearts and wish Siocháin De to every person we meet. A.S.
